LOOKING TOWARD

We, the students of Huntington High School have contributed another yearbook to be placed among the ones of years before. Perhaps it will not stand out in the mind of every student who walked through these halls during the year of 1948-49, but we sincerely hope that it will be a complete and concise picture on which to look with joy in the coming years. We, the Modulus Staff of 1949 dedicate this book to you.

—The Editor.

Culture

Through hands a person's knowledge, courage, and culture can be seen. Culture is shown through reading, prayer, music, art, speaking, and social behavior. The students of H. H. S. have the opportunity to obtain all of these.

LOOKING TOW

ARD CULTURE

THE GUIDING

Our guiding hand is a strong, capable hand. It is not merely the hand of one person but a large group of hands all working to better the lives of each and every student with which they work.

Hand

Mr. Burton Stephan

Every once in a while you're apt to notice a very quiet man strolling through the halls. He is none other than our very competent superintendent of schools, Mr. Burton Stephan. Even though he has a busy schedule, he finds time to talk with the students. That makes him the popular person that he is.

Miss Fredith Langley

No one ever hears much of or from this quiet person, but she has a great deal of responsibility in keeping our school running in a smooth manner. You see she is the personal secretary of Mr. Stephan, and must take care of all his business.

School Board

It is the duty of the school board to make the school budget and to supervise the employment of the teachers.

We have the school board to thank for the smooth running of our public schools.

The members of the School Board were: Mr. Frank C. Helvie, President; Mrs. Ruth M. Dunkin, Treasurer; Mr. Oscar K. Zeigler, Secretary; and Mr. Burton Stephan, Superintendent.

Mr. Harold S. Johnson

As principal of dear H. H. S., Harold Johnson has the trying task of coordinating activities. Besides guiding our paths, he teaches classes in Social Studies.

Even though he has a full time schedule as principal-teacher, he is never too busy to stop and chat with the students.

Miss Betty Grossman

Everyone knows Miss Grossman, better known as "Betty." Each time we go into the office she is there to greet us with her cheery smile. She is Mr. Johnson's personal secretary, and all around help to everyone in school.

Guidance Department

The members of the Guidance Department help each pupil make out his program. Without their help students would not know which classes to take for college entrance and jobs. The

OBSERVING

The Golden autumn and the winter is made for football and basketball — Kriegbaum Field's active echo answers to the triumphant screams of a touchdown-crazy crowd — Community Gym, where the wild crowds cheer hysterically to see a ball neatly dropped into the basket.

Sports

Football

The Huntington High School "Varsity" made this a successful season, winning six of nine games. They finished second in the Central Indiana Conference and placed Bob Carey and Ernie Passwater on the all-conference first team. Hiers and Wiles won second team honors. Bob Carey was named to the all-state third team. Dick Wiles, Tom Wirt, and Ernie Passwater gained honorable mention.

Midway through their football journey, the Vikes hit a reef and lost three games in a row before breaking loose to win the remaining games.

The Norse machine was a smooth-working offensive outfit. They piled up 2525 yards on the ground and 350 via the air lines. The opposition's ground attack failed to produce half of the Vikes total on the ground as they tallied only 1034. However, the opposition picked up 588 yards by aerials. The Sea Rovers completed the year with 118 first downs against 63 for the foes of the red and black. The Vikes threw 51 passes and connected on 18 for a percentage of .353. The opposition threw 100 passes, hit 36, and finished with a percentage of .360. Finally, in the penalty department, the Vikes showed their eagerness and "take nothing from anyone" attitude to the tune of 335 yards. The opposition, on the other hand, lost only 230 yards because of miscues.

Final Record:	AG	Won	6	Lost	3
	CON	Won	4	Lost	1

Bob Carey

Previous varsity experience enabled Bob to turn in exceptionally good line play during his senior year. By being elected co-captain by team mates, All-C. I. C. first team by conference coaches, and All State third team by Heze Clark of Indianapolis, Bob proved his superior football ability.

John Glenn

John was the reserve center of the Sea Rovers this year. A leg injury in pre-season practices benched him until late in the year. John looked especially good on defense.

Mike Watts

The end department of the Viking football machine was greatly strengthened by the addition of this great defensive man from Adrian, Michigan. Mike's specialty was tackling the foe behind the line of scrimmage.

Gene Vardaman

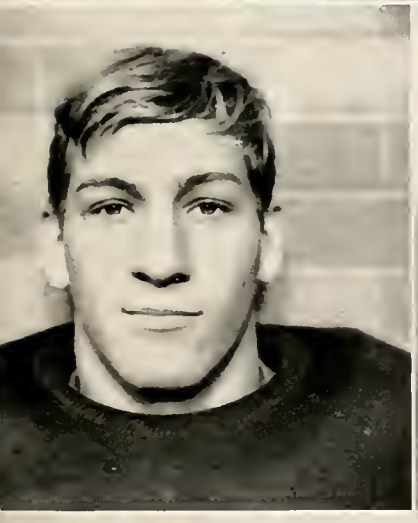
"Pete" closed three years of varsity ball playing with drive, determination, and desire. Noted for his aggressiveness, "Pete" proved that lack of size was no handicap to him. All in all, Mr. Vardaman handled his half back slot very well.

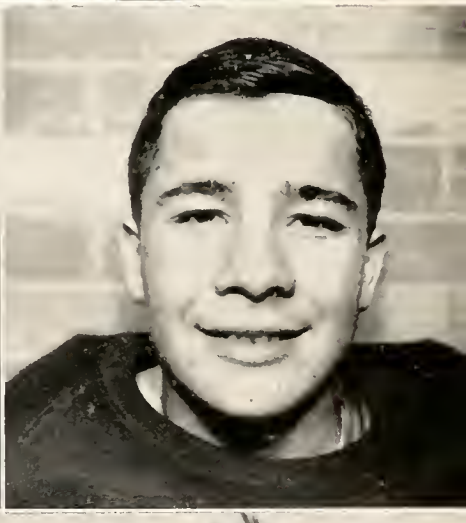
Dean Stonebraker

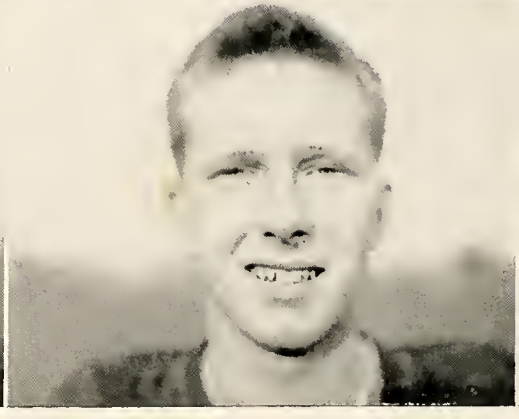
Senior quarterback, who stepped into the starting lineup in the Hartford City game, and capably carried the Vikes through four games in the absence of Hendricks. Dean was noted for his gambles, and successes, on fourth down passes.

Charles Williams

Charley saw action on the gridiron from the guard position. Although he was not in the starting lineup of any game, he saw much reserve action. He gave his best performances on offense.







Phil Gardner

Playing at right tackle, Phil opened many holes in the foe's line to allow Vike backs to penetrate pay dirt. Phil was valuable on defense and stopped many enemy thrusts through his position.

Dick Hendricks

Dick was regular quarterback to start the season, but an elbow injury in the Marion game put "Slim" on the bench for several games. He was noted for his accuracy on long passes and as an alert safety man on defense.

Dick Wilson

Fleet-footed Norse left half back was Dick Wilson. Dick carried the mail on numerous occasions for valuable yardage and in five instances he went all the way. Dick's most valuable services were in the offensive department.

Harry Smith

Like the majority of ends, Harry is tall and enjoyed taking short hook passes just over the line. "Big Stoop" was entirely an offensive end. His senior year closed three years of varsity ball.

Jack Wamsley

Famous for out-running opposing secondary to catch long aerials was "Worm" Wamsley. Jack's main department was kicking. Many a good kickoff and extra point was credited to him.

Jim Streit

Jim played guard his first and last year of football. He was valuable to toughen up the regulars in practice. Jim played in several games and looked good on defense.

Jerry Hiers

The defensive mate of Watts, "Ratch," is a tall lad and was noted for snaring high passes. He was selected to an end position on the C. I. C. second team.

Don Morris

During his senior year, his second year of varsity ball, Don played at any position to aid the Norse cause. He played both on offense and defense. His home position was tackle.

Marion Giants—Sept. 10

A near capacity crowd was on hand tonight to see the Vikes heat up the gridiron in beating the Marion Giants 34-6. Marion's initial drive was stopped when Al Shultz intercepted a pass midway in the second quarter. He scored four plays later. Marion got their only score when Rocky Jones cut loose with a 71-yard run two plays after receiving Huntington's kickoff. Al Shultz scored early in the second quarter. When the half ended the score was 14-6. A fourth quarter drive by the Vikes gave them another touchdown when Passwater scored. Passwater picked up another touchdown the same quarter and Dick Wilson accounted for the other score. Hendricks made four extra points. The Viking line turned in an excellent performance showing almost perfect blocking. They penetrated the opponent's line almost at will.

Hartford City—Sept. 17

Dean Stonebraker, taking the place of Dick Hendricks who was on the injured list, led the Vikes to a 39 to 6 victory over Hartford City. Huntington's first score came five plays after the kickoff, climaxing a drive by Passwater and Shultz. Wamsley's kick was good. We scored again late in the first quarter when Stonebraker carried the ball. First quarter score 13 to 0. Vardaman scored early in the second and again Wamsley's kick was good. The Airedales took to the air, but failed to gain and had to punt. Stonebraker passed to Passwater for another score. Coach Williams began substituting late in the second quarter. Midway in the third quarter Wilson scored on a pass from Stonebraker. Wamsley's kick was good. Hartford City made their only tally when they climaxed a long passing drive. Passwater scored early in the last quarter. At this point H. C. opened an aerial attack against our third team, but time ran out and the final score was 39 to 6. Excellent team work of all of the boys accounted for our second victory.

Wabash—Sept. 24

After an almost uneventful first half, the Vikes snapped to life in the third and fourth quarter to score 34 points and smother the Wabash Apaches 40-0 in a C. I. C. battle tonight on Alumni Field. It was the Vike's third straight win and second conference victory. This victory was sweet revenge for last year's 21-0 lacing at the hands of the Apaches. The Viking fans showed up 2500 strong to witness this game.

1948 Freshman Football Team

Most of the freshmen had played some football under Dick Goshorn while they were in the eighth grade and it showed it in their playing this year. This year they were coached by Oscar Naab, assisted by Dan Perry. They had a good season, winning four and losing three. The Viking team of 1952 promises to be big and fast and should win quite a few games for Huntington High. Before the year was over several of the boys were playing on the "B" team and should be able to make the varsity next year.

1948 "B" Team Football

The "farm system" of the Vikes showed some rapidly improving football players under the tutelage of Coach Oscar Naab. The "B" Team possessed both quantity and quality. Almost all of the boys on this team saw action, at least once, in a "varsity" game.

Several of the better freshmen played in some of the "B" team games. This year the team beat Peru, Wabash, and Decatur. They lost to Wabash, Columbia City, and Bluffton. The Decatur and Bluffton games were freshman-sophomore games.

A lot of time is spent with these boys, for it is the freshman and "B" teams that we mold our future Huntington High School Football teams.

Fort Wayne Central—Oct. 15

The mighty Sea Rovers again tasted defeat, this time at the hands of the Central Tigers. The Vikes were outclassed in almost every way tonight. Perhaps it was a reoccurrence of the Fort Wayne fight! The coach did much substituting in an effort to find a combination that would click against the powerful Tigers. The final count was 21-0.

New Castle—Oct. 22

The crippled Vikings sailed to their third straight defeat tonight by spotting the Trojans 21 points in the first 13 minutes. The Trojans' first three touchdowns were made by the same method, a perfect blocking set up for three perfect passes. The Vikes scored on on a quarter back sneak by Hendricks, which climaxed a 79-yard drive. Passwater scored the other touchdown for the Norsemen on a three-yard line plunge. The final score read, New Castle 34-Vikings 13.

Peru—Nov. 5

This rainy evening found the Vikes and Tigers engaged in mud fights on the slightly soggy turf of Kriegbaum Field. The Norse learned a few things from the Elwood game and used them on the Peru ball club. The final tally was 48-0 in favor of the happy Sea Rovers. The coach was ready for his annual shower, wearing overalls and boots, which also helped him in wading up and down the muddy sidelines. Wilson and Vardaman scored two touchdowns each while Hendricks, Passwater and Shultz each scored a touchdown. The conversions were accounted for by Passwater (4), Shultz and Stonebraker.

Basketball

Coach Bill Williams

Dick Wilson—This short but power and speed packed fellow saw much action this season. He was noted for his ability to drive under the basket. He was called upon many times to help the Vikes complete their excellent season.

Dick Hendricks—The tallest of the Sea Rovers this year was chosen to the all-conference first team. He was among the top ten scorers of the C. I. C. He was chosen honorary captain by his teammates. The first half of the season he operated at a forward position. The last half he played center.

Harry Smith—This big boy operated from the center position and was good at picking the ball off of the "bang board." This was his fourth year of sports at H. H. S. He likes sports so well that, although he could have graduated in January, he finished the year.

Frank Pyle—Frank came to H. H. S. late in the season, but managed to get into several games. He is a good defensive man and an excellent free-throw artist. He has a one-handed fall-away shot from about fifteen feet out that was good for several baskets.

Gene Woods—"Tito" was the object of much observation in the warm-up sessions, for everyone wondered if he was "hot". He was among the ten scorers of the conference, and was named to the all-conference second team. He was our shortest first-five man, standing just under six foot. He played a large part in every game by his consistent scoring.

Jim Streit—"Herr Streit" moved up to the first five when there was a mid-season shakeup in the Varsity line-ups. He is an excellent dribbler, and hits better than average on long shots. He is a good defensive player and aided the Vikes in their exceptionally good season. He operated at the guard position.

Don Buzzard—One of the coolest players of this year's squad was "Buzz". He joined the Vikes in mid-season and saw repeated action through the remainder of the season and tournaments. He was a long shot artist, hitting from way out.

Jerry Smith—Jerry, who was bothered with a knee injury throughout his high school career, earned a position on the first ten this season. He was used often when insurance points were needed. He made a specialty of long shots.

Gene Vardaman—"Pete" was the man called on when fast, close play was in order. Pete liked to give notice that he was in the game. Although he did not start many games, he saw much action.

Jerry Hiers—Operating at one of the forward positions, he finished four years of high school sports this year. He started every game with the exception of a couple when he was out with an injury. He is perhaps noted best for his defensive ability. He specialized in one-handed push shots, and used his height to great advantage. Jerry is certainly just beginning a great sports career.

1949 Viking Season

This season of upsets and peculiar games found our boys winning 15 or 20 games. The Vikes won eleven in a row before dropping four straight. The Norseman powerhouse went ahead to drop only one more encounter in the regular season play. This group of boys was smooth operating and although they were weak on free throws, they had a large variety of shots from the field that could be counted on.

Ten Seniors hung up their varsity uniforms for the last time in their high school careers. The Vikes, with the coaching of H. B. Williams, turned in one of the best seasons in many a year. One of the main reasons for an excellent season was the fine co-operation between coach and players, and the smooth teamwork. These factors accounted for the tall Sea Rovers being feared by every opponent.

HUNTINGTON SECTIONAL

The fans got their first glimpse of the tourney favorites at 11:00 A. M. Friday when the Vikes and Banquo squared off in first round play. The Norse, with "Georgous George" Hendricks pitching 18 in the first half and reserve pivot man Harry Smith duplicating that feat in the second half, romped to a 79-24 win over the out classed but ever-scrapping Indians.

In second round play Friday night the Sea Rovers battled the Spartans from Jefferson Center of Huntington county. The Vikings came out on the long end of a 55-29 count. The Jefferson boys were paced by Sammy Shook and Tony Chambers. Again it was the play of Hendricks and Hiers on the boards, and Gene Wood and Passwater playing superb floor games.

Saturday afternoon found the Union Sharpshooters hanging on for 2 quarters until "Big Dick" hit five from the floor in the torrid fourth period and the Red and Black coasted to a 41-20 victory over the Blue and White.

The big game of the tournament arrived at 8:15 P. M. Saturday night. By 9:45 the same evening, the Rams from Huntington Catholic had the nets well in hand. The Sea Rovers were paced by Gene Wood and Ernie Passwater with 12 and 10 respectively. Good sportsmanship, with the ever-present exceptions, was the password of the tournament, even following the final game, which H. H. S. students found rather difficult to take without a few tears.

Scylding Basketball

Coach Oscar Naab's Scyldings had one of their worst seasons in years, winning only five while losing fourteen games. The coaches though are not too worried about basketball propects for the next few years, because the Scylds this year were young and lost quite a few by a close margin.

The Scylds tallied 464 points during the season, but were outscored by their opponents, who racked up 527 points. They averaged 24 points per game, and their opponents averaged 28 points a game.

Three juniors, five sophomores, and seven freshmen played on the Scyldings this year. The juniors were D. Poe, D. Sult, and D. Wiles; the sophomores were B. Bond, B. Whitacre, D. Hum, B. Hunnicutt, and H. Edwards; and the freshmen were J. Hendricks, E. Haines, R. Hay, J. Miller, R. Weist, R. Harris, and D Lintner.

Freshman Basketball

The "Greenies" won eight out of twelve games this season. They won over Peru, Decatur, Marion, Bluffton, Rensselaer, Logansport, and Warsaw twice. They lost to Wabash, Marion and Central of Fort Wayne twice. The highlight of the season was winning a four way tourney at Logansport. They disposed of Rensselaer 36-28 and Logansport 32-31 to win the meet.

The starting line-up usually found Weist and Haines at forwards, Miller at center, and Hay and Hendricks at guards: subs were Lintner and Harris.

H Club

The purpose of the H club is in part as follows and was taken from the club's by-laws:

To instill in each member a code of sportsmanship that will serve as credit to the individual alone and to the organization as a whole. To promote the desire on the part of every boy in school to participate in some form of Intra-mural or Intra-scholastic athletics. To recognize and doubly honor those boys competing in intra-scholastic athletics who show outstanding ability in all athletics in different sports.

National League

The "rougher" league of the two, the National, had the same champion both semesters, the Red Sox. The boys who played on this team were: B. Williams, D. Bradshaw, M. Brown, D. Kimmel, A. Tabor, and B. Sell. The Red Sox won eight and lost one the first semester, and had a six and one record the second semester. They lost to the Scyldings 30-25 in a post season game.

The National League had a four team league both semesters with about thirty boys taking part. Junior and senior boys made up this league.

American League

The freshman-sophomore league had a different champion each semester. The Browns were champs the first half, winning nine while losing only one. The Redskins won the second half championship with a seven and none record. The Redskins then took care of the Browns in the playoffs, winning two straight games from them 28-11 and 20-14, making them the American League champs. The boys on the Redskin team were: M. Guhl, B. Koehlinger, D. Haupert, C. Runior, C. Helvie, H. Hite, C. Holsworth, and D. Clements.

Yell Leaders

The Varsity yell-leaders this year,—Marilyn Fosselman, Susie Briggs, Janie Weyler, and Lois Smith—aided by their sponsor, Dale Ware, and an enthusiastic cheering section, did a grand job introducing new yells and songs, and revising the old ones.

They attended the state cheer-leaders' conference at Indiana University for the second year.

Jean Bippus, Ellie Shenkel, Zan Poorman, and Lily Minnear, the Scylding yell-leaders, also did a wonderful job.

LOOKING AT

Organizations are so important to the high school boys' and girls' curriculum. Their parties, meetings, and dances make up a large part of the social life of H. H. S., while they encourage, too, more serious, constructive thinking.

Activities

Gales

"How darling—how utterly, utterly! Where did you get those cute eggs with frilly bonnets?"

"Haven't you heard? It's the Sunshine Gales project each year." The group was organized a few years ago under the sponsorship of Miss Cage. They decorate and sell Easter egss every spring, the proceeds of which are contributed to the Riley Fund for children at Riley Hospital in Indianapolis.

Janet Bailey was their chairman.

Sunshine

Mary White Guild

Mary White was a girl the same age as most of us. Due to an untimely death, she did not have the opportunities we are afforded. It is the purpose of our guild, named after the girl, to spread sunshine and cheer whenever it is possible.

To carry out our ideal, we fix May baskets to hang on the doors of faculty members, and send some to the hospital to be put on trays. We also sponsor the religious services which are so inspiring during Holy Week. This group is sponsored by Mrs. Marie Porter and Miss Florence Weiford, with our chairman being Betty Kissinger.

S. S. S.

The Social Service Sunbeams weren't organized soon enough to welcome Coach Bill's third daughter with a beautiful red rose. Sorry, maybe next time.

With Miss Emma Kline as sponsor and Cindy Coyle as chairman, S. S. S. performed this duty the rest of the year. Not only on the occasion of birth, but in illness and death.

Many other worthwhile things were done including sending clothes to Riley Hospital, and naturally, the annual chili dinner.

Society

Craft Guild

The Craft Guild meets every other Thursday under the leadership of Miss Zahn with Anne Stephan serving as chairman.

This year the guild made favors for hospital trays and received a letter of acknowledgment from the hospital. Also those beautiful favors you saw at the Junior-Senior Banquet were made by the Craft Guild.

JIMMY
WARREN

Care

CARE is a newly organized society here at H. H. S. It is about the same as the national organization which sends boxes of needed supplies to Europe. Although it is quite new, CARE has already sent several things to Germany.

M. M. S.

The M. M. S. with Pat Rusk as chairman sponsors the biggest event of the year—the annual Sweetheart Dance at the Masonic Temple. Working and worrying up to the last minute, the committee collapsed in chairs to listen to the heavenly music of Jimmy Warren. They soon agreed it was well worth the work. Under the direction of Miss Sees, chief worrier, several other dances were given. Peanut Week, during which each girl received goodies from a secret peanut pal, really went over big.

Sweetheart Dance

Lovely music floated out to greet the couples as they arrived at the annual Sweetheart Dance sponsored by the M. M. S. on February 19, 1949. The background was two gold fans connected by a gold cord on a red backdrop. The poles were decorated with small fans with the names of the couples placed on them. The music was furnished by the Jimmy Warren Orchestra.

Big Sisters

Big sisters are here to help the new Freshmen who come to H. H. S. They greet the freshmen as they arrive on their first day of school, and they guide them to their home room, classes, and once in a while, even to the elevator.

Little Sisters

What on earth is that? Oh, I see, it's one of those freshman girls. Yes, it's "Green Day" at H. H. S. What those "Big Sisters" won't think of next. You see the Little Sisters are the newly arrived girls at high school. Every girl is a little sister as she arrives at school. To each girl is appointed a big sister to help her during her first days at school.

Sr. Hi-Y

The officers for this year were:' President, Dick Gelzleichter; Vice-President, Dick Walters; Secretary, Jim Law; Treasurer, Dick Collins; Chaplain, Meredith Souers.

The Senior Hi-Y under the direction of its capable sponsors, Mr. Gerdes and Mr. Ware, is one of the leading clubs for high school boys. The club is open to all junior and senior boys.

The Hi-Y clubs enjoyed an outing at Camp Dick Runyan in September. Other events of the year were the Father-Son Banquet, Hayride, Mother-Son Banquet, and a Potluck and Splash Party.

The main event of the year was the Best Girl Dinner Dance, April 13. This dance is an established custom and is looked forward to by all.

Jr. Hi-Y

The Junior Hi-Y chose as their officers for this year: Hal Lesh, President; Tom Casper, Vice-President; Dick Glenn, Secretary-Treasurer; John Cozad, Sgt. of Arms; Bob Stevens, Chaplain; Jerry Parker, Historian. Their advisor was Ed Sunley and their sponsor was Dale Ware.

With the aid of these officers, the boys carried on a Christmas Box Sale, took part in the District Hi-Y Conference, which was held here, sponsored a Mother and Son banquet, and participated in many "joint meetings" or "forums" with the other Hi-Y groups.

Sr. Tri-Hi-Y

Under the direction of its sponsor, Mrs. O. K. Zeigler, the Senior Tri-Hi Y had a very busy year. In October they had an Anniversary Dance; at Christmas they filled baskets for the needy. Some of their other activities were a chili supper, Father-Daughter Banquet, and several joint discussions with the Sr. Hi-Y.

The officers were Thalia Huston, President; Peggy Welker, Vice-President; Carolyn Briggs, Secretary; Nancy Yarger, Treasurer; and Jeanne Young, Chaplain.

The girls worked hard to maintain the motto of the club, "To create, maintain, and establish throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character.

Jr. Tri-Hi-Y

This organization has proved to be one of the most important activities in high school.

Under the leadership of Marilyn Zeigler, "Murnie" to you and me, the group had six projects. Three were projects for the benefit of others; three were for the girls themselves.

The following officers were elected and served faithfully during the busy year: Lois Haupert, President; Jane Burris, secretary; Joann Hendricks, treasurer; Joanne Vickery, Chaplain; and Jackie Pfeifer, Sergeant of arms. (By the way, Jackie didn't have to bounce one single person all year!)

Third Row: Romaine Schall, Marie Holsworth, Jeanne Hull, Donna Auer, Mary Ruth Mulligan, Virginia Towne, Barbara Tower, Marjorie Raver, Susie Briggs, Juanita Burkholder, Mrs Patterson.
Second Row: Colleen Kreisher, Lou Ann Parker, Ellen Priddy, Bonnie Swearer, Pat Taylor, Shirley Earhart, Carol Whitted, Dolores Feltman, Rosanna Ross, Marilyn Fosselman, Pat Hoover, Barbara Winkler.

Sr. Masque and Gavel

Senior Masque and Gavel has continued its fine work this year and is still known as the busiest organization in H. H. S. The organization is open to any junior or senior with at least a "B" average. They have given many fine religious programs in the auditorium this year as well as taking part in Junior Town Meeting, Around the City Desk, the Rotary Contest and the American Legion Contest.

Many of the members took part in the Revue and, oh, of course, don't forget the daily announcements. We also had a large group at the Purdue Conference and gave many outside programs.

Their very capable and willing sponsor was Mrs. Wallace Patterson. Their officers for the year were: President, Phil Gardner; Vice-President, Thalia Huston; Secretary, Ellen Priddy.

Jr. Masque and Gavel

Junior Masque and Gavel is the first and only step leading to Senior Masque and Gavel. In preparation for the advance, the "juniors" must prove themselves worthy.

This year not only did they take part in the Bible Readings, the annual Alumni Banquet, and the Modulus Revue, but they sent Hal Lesh, their President, to the Speech Conference at Purdue.

Mrs. Patterson sponsors the group of forty-seven members, who elected Hal Lesh as president; Susan Richardson as vice-president; and Ann Bowers, as secretary-treasurer. When Susan moved, Duane Caley was elected to fill her position as Vice-president.

Rack Row: Lily Minniear, Mary Sue Stephan, Bruce Stewart, Duane Caley, Hobart Munger, Gene Bartrom, Hal Lesh, Margaret McColl, Joann Hendricks, Myra Rouch.
Third Row: Zan Poorman, Phyllis Krider, Bessie Funk, Eleanor Schenkel, Jean Bippus, Cindy Coyle, Sandra Welker, Phyllis Morris, Jim Shideler, Jimmie Pinney, Don Holloway, Jerry Parker, Mrs. Patterson.
Second Row: Carol Humbert, Janet Herzog, Sally Carroll, Jane Powers, Kay Carrol, Anita Bloom, Nancy Burris, Joyce Whitacre, Patsy Priddy, Pat Patten, Ann Bowers, Jean Ann Vernon.

Auditoriums

We had a great variety of auditorium programs this year. We started off with a very inspiring program on "The Flags Still Fly" by Edward Louis Jeambey. I've never seen so many flags.

In October we entered the auditorium to see a strange outfit on the stage. We thought perhaps someone had moved in, but it was just a prop for Howard Cleave's interesting program on "Catching Animals Unaware."

We had a rest until December when Mr. Lynch showed us how to use a bow and arrow. Also in December we had the "Deep River Quartet."

After our Christmas vacation, the Conservatory Players from Chicago, presented the Importance of Being Earnest.

We had several college choirs that entertained us during the year.

Our last, but certainly not least program, was Richard Carradine who presented, "Scenes from Shakespeare."

Biology Club

The Biology Club chose as its officers this year: Glenna Fahrnow, President; Barbara Tower, Vice-president; Maralee DuHadway, Treasurer; Dorothy Kauff, Secretary.

With the direction of these officers and their wonderful sponsors, Mr. Glenn Hummer and Dale Ware, this group held many activities such as a speech by Dr. Lowe from the college, a trip to Purdue University, and outdoor steak fry and many other programs.

Back Row: Phil Burchett, Dick Bradshaw, Roger Carey, Henry Balcom, John Cozad, Luke Peters, Harold Hite, Mr. Hummer.
Second Row: Pat Rusk, Janet Bailey, Dorlis Brown, Glenna Fahrnow, Barbara Tower, Dorothy Kauff, Dolores Feltman, Ellen Priddy, Lona Belle Rice, Lenore Bloom.
First Row: Jim Pinney, Carolyn Briggs, Patt Hoover, Maralee DuHadway, Jerry Sunday, Harry James, Jr.

The Swing Inn

As Jean and Barb leave each other at the corner about 5:00, they can be heard to say, "See you at the Swing Inn at 7:00." Of course they'll be there because the Swing Inn is one of the most popular places in town for high school kids. Anybody and everybody is invited to come, and the dues are only $1.00 a year. You don't see anyone smoking or drinking in the Swing Inn because it just isn't allowed. It is open from four to five every day after school and on Friday and Saturday night, it is open from eight until eleven.

Of course when you mention the Swing Inn, you can't help but think of Mamie and Ed Sunley. Miss Henry is always there on the job at night and Murnie Zeigler take care of the roughnecks after school. I don't think I have ever danced a whole dance without George Young calling someone to the phone over the P. A. (He just loves that thing.)

The Swing Inn Board this year elected Dick Gelzleichter for their president from H. H. S. The other members from H. H. S. are Dolores Feltman, Barbara Alexander, Marilyn Fosselman, Susie Briggs, Jack Wamsley, Vice-President, Alfred Shultz, and Ernie Passwater. From H. C. there are Marianne Bolinger, Treas., Norma Gass, Sec., and Dean Joyle.

The Jr. and Sr. Prom of 1948

Upon arrival at the Masonic Temple where the banquet was held, the guests were deeply impressed with the beautiful decorations. The tables were lined with green, upon which were white roses and white carnations. In the background appeared a shadow box with "We Honor Our Seniors" done in green and white. A lovely meal was enjoyed after which a dance was held with the Dale Higgin's Orchestra furnishing the music.

Honor Students

The Senior Honor Society is composed of 15% of the Senior Class; while the Junior Honor Society is made up of 5% of the Junior Class. The members are chosen from the upper 25% of each class. With a composite score of student ranking, faculty ranking, and scholarship ranking, a faculty committee makes the final selection of the members for each group.

The "Kiwanis Builds Forever" award is given by the Kiwanis Club to the highest 5% of the Senior Class based entirely on scholarship.

Student Council

Outside of an empty space in the hall now and then where a monitor should have been, the Student Council has done a splendid job this year.

From each of the home rooms, two students are chosen to the student council and this group becomes the governing body of H. H. S.

The officers for this year were: Bob Carey, president; Ernie Passwater, vice-president; and Pat Rusk, Secretary-treasurer.

Audio Visual

The Audio Visual Department provides us with movies on history, English, mathematics, and many other things. They also provide us with scenes of social life. With the help of their very capable leader, Mr. Day, the boys do a very important job in our school.

G A A

This year's large G. A. A. group chose for their officers: President, Carolyn Knoll; Vice-President, Jean Altman; Secretary, Anne Bippus; and Treasurer, Jane Weyler.

They had a very successful year, sponsoring two volleyball tournaments, interclass tournaments in several sports, a trip to Washington, D. C., a trip to the Tulip Festival in Holland, Michigan, and a trip to Indianapolis to see Sonja Henie's Ice Revue. A potluck-initiation-splash party and the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet were also enjoyed by the girls. To boost the treasury, they sold Viking headscarves, greeting cards, and candy.

The achievements, both individually and as a whole, have been outstanding. Earning 350 points or more, Patsy Rusk, Carolyn Knoll, Jean Altman, Lois Smith, and Jane Weyler earned the plaque, the highest award of the Indiana State League.

The girls' gym classes and the G. A. A. again sent seeds and booties, made out of old felt hats, to Europe.

Booster Club

The Booster Club did a grand job this year in helping to boost the teams. They were there early at every football game and roped off a section for students and Band members (only of course a few adults got by them). They got the programs out for every game and had a wonderful hamburger fry at Lagro State Park early in the season. Even after all this, they still had time for that horrible thing called initiation (believe me, it was horrible). They had for their officers: President, Jack Morris; Vice-President, Dick Gelzleichter; Secretary-treasurer, Nancy Yarger.

Back Row: Jean Bippus, Marie Holsworth, Romaine Schall, Janet Connolly, Mary Ellen Follis, Ann Bippus, Jane Barnhart, Anne Stephan, Carole Johnson, Connie Mygrant, Elizabeth Webster.
Third Row: Eleanor Schenkel, Zan Poorman, Yvonne Detwiler, Margery Gretzinger, Pat Taylor, Jane Weyler, Margery Raver, Barbara Winkler, Susie Briggs, Lois Smith, Marilyn Fosselman.
Second Row: Lily Minniear, Colleen Kreisher, Vivian Seils, Jean Altman, Sue Wright, Carol Whitted, Daralene Caldwell, Rosanna Ross, Pat Pontious.

Actuariae

The Actuariae or assistant librarians club had a very fine year under the direction of their sponsor, Miss Hannah and officers—President, Jeanne Young; Vice-President, Janet Greider; Secretary, Patti O'Donnell; Treasurer, Jean Hull.

During National Book Week they put up posters in the school. One of their projects of this year was to send books to Kentucky. They also went Christmas caroling. The main event of the year was the tea for their mothers held in the spring.

Third Row: Miss Hannah, Patti O'Donnell, Jeanne Young, Lois Haupert, Jeanne Hull, Mary Ruth Mulligan, Marie Holsworth, Susie Briggs, Patty Meese, Jeanette Smith.
Second Row: Colleen Kreisher, Shirley Earhart, Lavera Wendel, Janet Connolly, Phyllis Lewis, Dorothea Lamb, Juanita Burkholder, Helen Balcom.

Drum Major

Although Max Truby did lead the band some last year, this is his first year as a full-fledged drum major. Just as predicted last year, he has done a very good job.

First Row: Ellen Priddy, Bonnie Swearer, Marilyn Fosselman, Max Truby, Thalia Huston, Colleen Kreisher, Kay Carroll, Dorothy Gee, Donna Haneline.
Second Row: Dorlis Brown, Jean Bippus, Sue Day, Donna Gorham, Patsy Priddy, Ann Bowers, Sally Carroll, Jean Vernon, Phyllis Krider, Betty Thornton, Jane Weyler, Sandra Welker, Norma Wamsley, Phyllis Saufley, Shirley Ervin.

Director

Mr. Delmar Weesner has again done a wonderful job directing our band. We really owe a lot to him. He has to find the songs and arrangements suitable for the band; then, the hardest job of all, he has to spend many hours practicing them with the band before they are ready to be played in public. To say the least, there is a lot of extra practicing before a contest in which the band always walks away with top honors. Mr. Weesner can always be depended upon for a wonderful band.

The Band

The band is one organization that H. H. S. couldn't do without. They play at the games, pep sessions, auditorium programs, and even give a special concert all their own. Some of the numbers they played this year were: "My Happiness," "Until," "Ballerina," and many other popular tunes. I think many of us take the attitude that the band will always be around to play for us and we do not realize or appreciate all the hard work it takes to make this band the wonderful organization it is.

Phyllis Jones, Sue Ebert, Phyllis Lewis, Yvonne Detwiler

Majorettes

As an added attraction at the games, we can always depend on the majorettes for a swell show. The majorettes this year were: Yvonne Detwiler, Sue Ebert, Phyllis Jones, Donna Bryant, and Phyllis Lewis.

Our band has added a great deal to our home games with their matches, pep songs, and popular numbers. Not only is this group popular with local fans, but it has gained the reputation among visiting fans, as being one of the finest in the state.

During the season Marilyn Fosselman, Peggy Welker, and Max Truby appeared as soloists with the band. The three trumpeteers, Burdell Sell, Ned Snowden, and Dick Walters, added their bit at home and at many games away.

Third Row: Joann Labertew, Kay Carroll, Carol Humbert, Bob Kaylor, Bob Meese, Don Buzzard, Ronald Weist, Jim Helvie, Colleen Kreisher, Shirley Earhart, Joretta Souers, Carol Whitted.
Second Row: Joan Vickery, Elizabeth Webster, Joann Hendricks, Juanita Burkholder, Shirley Ervin, Lenore Bloom, Jeanne Hull, Romaine Schall, Sandra Welker, Lois Smith, Francis Wood.

Choir

Maestroes and prima donnas of room 101—from whence melodious songs float every day. A soprano soloist, nightingale of the sophomore class, trills a high "c" in practice for the winter concert. The mixed and mingled voices of an Appella choir furnish the musical background for the scene. The choir, which is eleven years young is ably led by Mr. Slater.

Aside from their work as a group, they have formed many ensembles, which have performed at several special functions.

Our hats are off to the choir of Huntington High—one of the largest and most certainly the best in its history.

Woodshop Foremen

This group of boys is composed of Juniors and Seniors who are especially interested in woodshop and the safety of the work about the shop

In order to be a foreman, a boy must major in industrial art, must formerly have been an assistant foreman, and must have a B average.

Rotary

Each month a senior boy is chosen to be a Junior Rotarian for the month. The Junior Rotarians are chosen on the basis of scholastic ability, dependability, civic interest, personality, and manners.

Mr. Lester Gordon, president of the Rotary Club, is sponsor of the group. Members of the Junior Rotary for this year were:

Sept.—Phil Gardner,
Oct.—John Glenn,
Nov.—Dick Wilson,
Dec.—James Kocher,
Jan.—Bob Carey,
Feb.—Bill Ayres,
Mar.—Dick Collins,
April—Dick Hendricks,
May—William Lauterbach.

F. T. A.

The purpose of the F. T. A. is to interest students in teaching and to educate and promote those already interested in the profession.

They had Miss Shipley from Huntington College and Mr. Stephan as speakers. The club was the guest of the Huntington Classroom Teachers at a banquet during National Education Week. Also, the students were dismissed from school for a day to attend a district F. T. A. meeting at Manchester College.

The officers for the year were President, Ann Stephan; Secretary, Barbara Alexander; Treasurer, Nancy Yarger; Librarian, Mary Ruth Mulligan. The sponsor of the club is Mr. Lester D. Gordon.

First Row: Mary Ruth Mulligan, Virginia Towne, Dorlis Brown, Barbara Alexander, Nancy Yarger, Norma Hensel.

Student Help

Many students in H. H. S. have served as assistants in the various departments of our school, helping with attendance, office work, guidance, and the renting of books.

Book Renters

Miss Modulus

On February 9, as Miss Janie Weyler traveled along that long, long trail to the stage with her escort, John Glenn, she realized that all the hard work she had done in selling tickets would be well worth it if only she might be Miss Modulus. Janie's dreams were realized and as Jack Wamsley, Master of Ceremonies, presented her with the dainty little silver bracelet signifying that she was Miss Modulus of 1949, she was so excited and happy that she nearly cried. "It was a lot of hard work," she was heard to say later, "but it certainly was worth it."

Modulus Staff

The Modulus Staff is a group of students who work all year to put out a complete record of the year's happenings through pictures and writing. Naturally there must be someone to compile the pictures and write ups and that was Barbara Alexander, our editor. Then there must be someone to make sure things are done right, and turned in on time, plan and produce our Revue, and do the worrying for all, that's our sponsor, Mr. Wilbern.

Speaking of the Revue, it is a show put on to make money to publish the yearbook. This year it was named, "Let Yourself Go."

REVUE

At last it has arrived, it's opening night of the 1949 Modulus Revue, "Let Yourself Go." It seems like we've had a lot of trouble getting it ready, but at last the big moment has arrived. "Three minutes to go," calls our very wonderful producer, Mr. Wilbern. Then there's that dreadful second when suddenly the curtains swing open, and you see all those people sitting out front. And then before you know it, the curtain closes and opening night is through. The Revue ran for three nights with a very "full house" every night. This year's show was divided into four parts; the Introduction, the Spanish group, Dream Moods in Music, and Requests. Of course we cannot forget the Presentation of Candidates for Miss Modulus, the dance chorus numbers, and the interacts put on by the Masque and Gavel. Congratulations also to our four Masters of Ceremonies for a fine job. To many people, this year's Revue will always be the best.

LOOKING OVER

The freshman class of this year, on the receiving end of all the traditional jokes and pranks of the upper classmen, have managed to laugh along with the others, superior in the knowledge that from the lowly freshman of today is molded the mighty senior of tomorrow.

A happy, fun-loving group, looking forward to all the good times to be had, but never losing sight of all the opportunities our school has to offer, and never forgetting to be thankful for them, we know the importance of the next three years.

We are especially proud of the boys in our class who are interested in sports, many of whom will be seen on the athletic fields of future years.

We, the freshmen, feel our greatest fortune is in having Coach Bill Williams as our sponsor.

Officers are: Eddie Haines, President; Russell Hayes, Vice President; Jean Bippus, Secretary; Eleanor Schenkel, Treasurer.

LOOKING AROUND

Still the "in between," the Sophomores, with all their studies had a good time. Having been in H. H. S. now for quite some time, they felt like old timers, but were frequently reminded that they were still under classmen.

The Greek word Sophos is supposed to mean wise? It must, because look who the class elected for its sponsor and officers: Mr. Buzzard, Sponsor; Bob Bond, President; Ann Bowers, Vice-President; Jane Burris, Secretary; Barbara Webber, Treasurer.

The main event of the class of "51" was their class party which was a big success.

LOOKING THRU

This is the year when that class of 1950 is at last called Junior. Yes, all those red cords you see running around the halls belong to us.

The officers, who did a good job, were: Alfred "OO" Shultz, President; Anne "Official Money Orderer" Stephan, Vice-President; "Annie B." Bippus, Secretary; Bob "Money Bags" Ball, Treasurer.

Birdie "Never Say Die" Cage and "Pop" Day helped us with many fine suggestions and worked very hard along with the candy-sellers.

We're the ones who endure all the hard feelings of the spectators when we stand in their way while they're trying to spectate.

The Reception was very nice this year due to the hard work and co-operation of all the able chairmen and committee workers.

This has been an exceptionally enjoyable year for all of us at good old H. H. S.

LOOKING UP TO

After four long years and the helping hands of old father time, the Class of '49 has reached its destination. This has been a year filled with both happiness and heartaches.

The guiding hands of our sponsors, Miss Wilson and Mrs. Patterson carried us through the usual (and sometimes unusual) difficulties and problems of the class.

The Class of '49 got off to a good start by electing the following officers: Bob "Third Term" Carey, Pres.; Jerry "Ratchet" Hiers, Vice-Pres.; Patsy "Valedictorian" Rusk, Sec.; Dick "R. O. T. C." Collins, Treas.

A very capable committee chose the annual play which was put on by the seniors. It was a hilarious three-act comedy, "The Seven Sisters." A lot of hard work combined with exceptional talent and excellent guidance made the play a great success.

The seniors enjoyed a class party which will be long remembered by all. The theme "The '49ers" brought in everything from "gold diggers," "can-can girls," and the always present "class mule."

The colors, motto, and flowers were chosen with careful consideration by another capable committee. The colors decided upon were white and wine; the motto, "Knowledge comes but wisdom lingers"; the flower, white rose. After much debating, the gift for the school was selected. The gift, "Stage Lighting", was really a great necessity in our auditorium. We hope that our gift will add to everyone's future enjoyment.

Of course, we seniors will never forget the enjoyable Junior and Senior Reception. This Reception proved to be a terrific climax to four wonderful years for the Senior Class of 1949.

Prophecy

While strolling through Pilgrim's Rest, morbidly known as a cemetery, who should we see but Jim Powers—much older and rather grey, but unmistakably Jim. Upon closer inspection we recognize his companion as Beatrice Bogear, closely cuddled under his wing. Our expressions register extreme amazement and we ask them to explain their presence on our planet. Says Jim, "I knew I could get the sky buggy up to 900, and I did, but I didn't see the turn of cloud #5 and rolled off." Yep, the same old Jim. "But we can get back up by the escalator." This sounds like a good idea so we approve, as our main object is to get as far away from last year's class as possible. Jim calls Asteroid Center and Alberta Emley answers. A short conversation and PRESTO, we have a maroon-carpeted escalator strewn with white roses. LeRoy Clements, our escalator man, throws the switch and up we go! Bzzzt Boing!! We have arrived and are greeted by the illustrious Mr. Phil Gardner. Why, Phil! I do believe you are at a loss for words.

The beautiful strains of choral music, composed and played by Jim Law, fall gently on our ears. Also, we hear the old familiar quartet composed of Max Truby, Don Buzzard, Bob Meese and Harold Wolford. The Singing Stars, they call themselves. From there we are guided to "Milky Way Avenue" only to find Pedro Petrucelle rescuing Virginia Thornton from the evil paws of Rabbit Lewton who is trying to persuade her to ride in his new carrot wagon.

Hearing a din of activity, our eyes wander on down the street to the Morris Halo Factory where Don and Jack are busily shining tarnished halos for Glenna Fahrnow, Jean Leatherman, Donna Auer, Betty Robbins, Rose Ann MacMurray, Jack Belote, Bill Ayres, and Tom Hefner.

You naturally would expect to find a chapel in this celestial city, and this one is so majestic we decided to go in. Mert Souers, the new pastor, meets us at the door saying, "Don't mind them, they're just practicing." Glancing up to the choir loft, we recognize Virginia Towne, Bob Lee, Albert Kinsey, Jack Knote, Jeannette Smith, Jeanne Hull, Rose Crider, and Mary Ruth Mulligan, singing under the direction of Thalia Huston. To one side sits Jim Streit humming thoughtfully, "Where She Leads Me I Will Follow." While leaving the church Jim Kocher informs us that the streak that just whizzed past us was Ellen Priddy, late as usual, rushing to take her place at the organ.

After hiring Bob Booker as our chauffeur, we head for the Jung filling station. Waiting for Sonny to "fill her up," we notice LaDonna Prader and Don Covey pushing a new—ice cream wagon. Driving on down the road we spy a parked car and supposing it to be someone in distress, pull up to offer our service. Convinced that they, Dick Wilson and Dorlis Brown, are really only listening to the radio we travel on. Following their example, we tuned in on our radio just in time to hear Jim Helvie chuckle as he introduces Patt Hoover who will give a play-by-play description of the Shooting Stars Game, in the absence of her very good friend, Vance Stockman. We soon arrive at the Cloudtoseem (play ball). Peggy Welker sells us our tickets (it seems to be a habit), and Allen Young collects them at the door. And who to our wondering eyes should appear but tiny Jo Minton, leading a cheer. And on the floor charges Hiers and Dick (Hendricks). Come on, Pyle, get on the stick! Following behind are Harry (Smith), Gene (Wood), and Dean (Stonebraker). Heading for the bench go Jerry (Smith), Prosser (Watts) and Pete (Vardaman). We are no sooner ushered to our seats by Gerald Swaidner than Jack Wamsley, the referee, blows the whistle; and Paul Kahlenbeck and Larry Borton charge out to the floor with an armload of towels.

Almost before we realize it, the game is over, and we have moved with the crowd in to Hosler's Drug Store with Mooney mixing Sunbeams in hurried confusion and Bill Plasterer supplying the milk and the bubbles on top. After Betty Kissinger waits on us, she brings in Carolyn Briggs (chief cook and bottle washer), who offers us a piece of her delicious divinity. Just as we move toward the door, Larry Miller, out in front, hails a taxicab driven cautiously by Icky Marchand as Annie Beeching turns to invite us to Yarger's party in honor of General John Glenn and Admiral Richard Collins. We nod our acceptance and climb into a car with Joe Morrow. By jove, he really knows his way around. Our scents (smell, that is) detect the semi-delightful odor of perfume and popcorn from Clark's stand on the corner; and as Paul busily works away, Fonda Harter, Betty Cocklin, Madonna Clark, Lorrain Schaeffer, Jean Godwin and Betty Murphy look on.

Standing in front of Brickley's theater, Kenny chats with Elizabeth Brewer, Marilyn Burman, Carolyn Correll, Margaret Spath, Jackie Shipley, Annabelle Lee, and June Young, who are passing the time of night waiting for the featured attraction of the evening, or the past century for that matter, "The Seven Sisters."

You may not realize it, but it has taken us a full two hours to reach this party; and as Nancy with Ritty Gelzleichter greets us, they inform us that the first prize is just being awarded to Patsy Rusk, with Bill Lauterbach coming in second. Barb Alexander takes the Bobby prize (Carey, you understand).

We coax Caroline to Seng us a song, so she proceeds with Emilie Burke at the piano: "Men are strong, women are bright, Bob Krider is wrong and Millie is Wright."

In another corner Walter Vater, surrounded by Dolores Feltman, Maralee DuHadway, Dorothy Kauff, is up to his old tricks of telling jokes.

Right in the middle of the floor, taking up as much room as possible and paying no attention to anyone else, Lonabelle Rice, Mark Whitacre, Jean Ellen McClosky, and Bud Christman are still shuffling the deck.

Unable to find our host and hostess, we thank Phyllis Lewis for a most inspiring evening. Stepping onto the porch we realize what Jeanne Young, Verna Towne, Betty McCoy, Carolyn Knoll, John Weyler, Bob Stephan, Joycelyn Fry, Herbert and Ronald Pearson find so attractive, for mingled with their group is Henry Balcom, the life of any party.

We take our leave, heading in the general direction of the city's gate; we see Barbara Herzog, Janet Keel, and Geraldine Drabenstot, with their clipped wings, limping past Barbara Tower's Ballet School for little cherubs.

A cloud burst; a terrifying scream! Pat Braden, Carolyn Weiford, Ralph Hubbart, Dick Mauger, Don Sutter, James Prough, Don Sanders, Charlie Williams, Don Wood, Keith Beihl, and Jerry Caley go crashing through, Fallen Angels, I betcha!

Hearing the mighty blasts of Gabriel's horn, dynamited by Ned Snowden, Burdell Sell, and Dick Walters, we, through our smiling tears (for parting is such sweet sorrow) for the first time and probably the last, notice the inscription on the golden gate, "Knowledge comes but wisdom lingers." We realize that the time has come for all mortal visitors to descend.

As we are lowered Max Stahl(s), Lois Hart's Ford of the past (in spite of the objections raised by her passengers, Joe Holloway, Eugene Drabenstot, and Paul Decker.)

All good things as well as bad, must come to a close, so our last words are, "Just register all complaints with

Susie Briggs
Rosie Ross
Sue Wright
Bob Ball"

Senior Class Will

We, the Senior Class, have strived throughout the entirety of this will, to abide by our motto and theme song "Who Cares What People Say?" All remarks printed here are not to be taken too seriously to cause any "Heartaches" or bursting of "Buttons and Bows." Nevertheless, the undersigned are leaving "On a Slow Boat" to those "Far Away Places," merrily singing "All Right, Louie, Drop That Gun."

Phil Gardner, Bill Lauterbach, and Jim Kocher will their brains to John Hopkins Medical Laboratory.

Jim Powers bequeaths his "quiet, reserved manner" to Bob Kaylor.

Frank Pyle wills his knowledge of women to his brother Bill who probably doesn't need it.

Peggy Welker and Allen Young leave "arm in arm"—the same way they came.

Joycelyn Fry leaves her boisterous ways to Elizabeth Webster.

Dorlis Brown wills her extensive vocabulary to Lenore Bloom.

Don Covey and La Donna Prater will their ability to get along together to Dick Bradshaw and Susie Briggs.

Jack Wamsley leaves Jennie B's home room —HOORAY!

Maralee Du Hadway wills her "Sammy Kaye Sway" to Jean Boyle.

Larry Borton wills his precious scorebooks to Luke Peters.

Dick Walters wills his curly locks to the Coach's office.

Harold Wolford leaves for the theater.

Donna Auer, Geraldine Drabenstot, and Verna Towne will their ability to keep calm, cool, and collected to Jennie B.

Dick Hendricks bequeaths his ability to soft soap teachers to Annie Bippus who has found by chemical research that all soap is 90% "lie".

Walter Vater wills his FORD to any Junior brave enough to accept it.

Kayo Bryant has already left.

Bill "Ayers" his views on the important problem of the day to any underclassman sucker enough to listen.

Alberta Emley wills her size 3½ class ring to any anxious sophomore unable to wait.

Jeanne Hull leaves . . . All we can say is—Hmm.

Georgianna Beeching and Larry Miller leave in the same direction.

Millie Rose leaves the "Wright" way of doing things to Sue Ann.

Jerry Hiers wills the secret of his good conditioning for "the mile" (his daily jaunts to Brown's) to Coach Williams.

Tom Hefner, Joe Morrow, Icky Marchand, Bob Hosler, Bob Krider, and Max Truby bequeath their hard-won fame as "the stags at bay" to Alfred Shultz, Don Sult, Morris Brown, Alan Tabor, Dan Kimmel, and Jack Schact.

Margaret Spath wills her natural blonde hair to the girls who would like to stop spending money for peroxide.

Paul Decker leaves his ambition to get up in the world to an elevator boy.

Jerry Smith wills his bright sweaters to Lana Turner.

Henry Balcom leaves for the Hotel Lafontaine.

Bob Booker wills his "gift of gab" to Bonnie Swearer.

Jack Belote leaves to spread the good word about the "new regular Army."

Beatrice Bogear wills her ability in dietetics to "Dad" Gordon.

Kenneth Brickley, Dick Collins, Jack Knote and Joe Holloway leave to become candidates for "Davy Jones Locker."

Patt Hoover wills Tom Wirt to Rosanna Ross.

Sonny Jung and Max Stahl leave for the polls.

Paul Kahlenbeck wills his "romantic ways" to Robert Ball.

Don Buzzard leaves his morbid sense of humor to George Gressley.

John Glenn leaves to join Harold Shultz at West Point.

Lee Lewton wills the ditches in lover's lane to Carlos Huesca.

Carolyn Weiford, Rose Crider, and Jim Helvie leave openings in choir to any aspiring Juniors willing to "tra-la-la-" their vocal chords.

Bob Meese leaves Thalia Huston—"again?"

Don Morris wills his ability to sleep in Civics Class to anyone who feels they need the rest.

Keith Biehl wills his rugged physique to Jack Tomlinson.

Elizabeth Brewer, Annabelle Lee, Virginia Thornton, and June Young will the back booth in Meyer's Drug Store to anyone lucky enough to beat them to it.

Vance Stockman wills his promising position as assistant manager of the J. C. Penny Co. to an ambitious Junior.

Paul Clark leaves his FORD to any up and coming Freshman who wants to push it to school.

Betty Cocklin, Lorraine Schaeffer, Betty Murphy, Barbara Herzog, Jean Godwin, Betty Robbins, and Madonna Clark leave to take the "plunge" into matrimony.

Pat Braden wills her gum-cracking ability to Clara June Elser.

Jerry Caley and Gene Vardaman leave Mary Ellen Follis and Vonnie Detwiler with "I want to be alone" signs on them.

Ned Snowden wills his "wicked trumpet" to Harry James—of H. H. S. that is.

Virginia leaves for "Towne" (by way of Union Center Road) in a "34" Chevy.

Donald Sutter wills the Dairy Business to Ann Blackburn.

Lois Hart leaves for college—Hope she makes it this time.

Carolyn Briggs wills her motto "A different date for every dance" and the title "Miss Modulus" to Janie Weyler.

Mert Souers, Burdell Sell, Jack Morris and Jeannette Smith leave four vacant seats in the band room.

Emilie Burke wills her position in the dance chorus to Jerry Sunday.

Barbara leaves to establish the "Tower" Ballet School.

Carolyn Knoll and Robert Lee are eliminating "Post-graduate" work by leaving early.

Patsy Rusk wills her ability to get straight A's and have a lot of fun to Jean Altman.

Lona Belle Rice leaves her black "Chevy" to the Army for their V2 Rocket experiment.

Jeanne Young wills her ruling authority in the library back to Miss Hannah.

Jim Law leaves a lonely look in Barbara Winkler's eyes.

Delores Feltman wills her "101" ways of losing weight" to Janet Bailey.

Glenna Fahrnow wills her "come hither" look to Glenna Fahrnow who feels she might need them for future reference.

Carolyn leaves to "Correll" a man.

Joan Minton leaves a lot of broken hearts.

Barbara Alexander wills her ability to take responsibility to some outstanding Junior.

Bill Plasterer leaves his wide-eyed innocent ways to Bob Griffith.

Dean Stonebraker leaves his position of short stop to Ty Cobb.

Harry Smith wills his "two front teeth" to Dewayne Salters.

Gene "Wood" leaves something to future classes besides Dora if it were at all possible.

Charlie Williams and Don Petrucelle will their Catholic friends to Dick Wiles.

Janet Keel wills a dozen artificial roses (created by Janet herself) to room 209.

Jean Leatherman leaves H. H. S. to join Sinbad at I. U.

Eugene Drabenstot, Leroy Clements, Ralph Hubartt, James Prough, Ronald Pearson, Don Wood, Donald Saunders leave as they came—quietly.

Nancy Yarger leaves for the "cleaners."

Robert Stephan takes "stock" of the situation and leaves for the farm.

Herbert Pearson and Bob Christman "pool" their assets and head for Mike's Emporium of higher learning.

John Weyler wills Janie to next year's cheering section.

Elizabeth Kissinger leaves her job in the office to some ambitious Junior.

Phyllis Lewis wills her Pepsodent smile to new "Bob Hope Television Advertisements."

Rose Ann MacMurray and Betty McCoy have already left for a "Higher field of learning."

Dick Gelzleichter, Dick Mauger, and Gerald Swaidner will their talents for Bookkeeping back to Gerdes.

Caroline Seng, Jackie Shipley, Marilyn Burman will their H section-2nd row seats to next year's eager Senior fans.

Ellen Priddy wills her scholarly ways to sister Patsy.

Jean McCloskey and Fonda Harter will if no one else will.

Bob Carey leaves the home show along with others to attend another show at the Fox.

Jim Walters left, but he came back for Madonna.

We the authors of the Senior Class Will,

Mary Ruth Mulligan
Mike Watts
Dorothy Kauff
Jim Streit

leave for Siberia and parts unknown!

Senior Play

No, the class of '49 didn't have the talent of the class of '46, nor the "characters" of the class of '47, nor the leaders of the class of '48; but, nevertheless, they had a rip-roaring hilarious comedy for a Senior Play entitled, "Seven Sisters." It was well coached by Mrs. Patterson and Miss Wilson every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights.

The play takes place in Hungary, in the home of a poor peasant family. The oddity being that the family is composed of seven sisters, who are governed in a military style by a most domineering, widowed mother.

The whole story is based around, within, and about marriage. Mitzi, the fourth daughter (played by Barbara Tower), had been expelled from the convent to which she had been sent for some insane action. Her admirer, Ferents Horkoy (played by Phil Gardner), decides to help her out of her situation, which is being the age her mother, Mrs. Gyurkovics (Pat Rusk), desires and not marrying until her three older sisters are wed (an old Hungarian custom). Horkoy's desires are unknown to Mitzi, and to gain her freedom, for the price of three kisses, she consents. With Horkoy's aid, the oldest sister, (played by Ellen Priddy) Katinka, is married off by the end of the first act to Colonel Radviany (Mike Watts). The end of the second act sees the second sister, Sari (Dolores Feltman) wed to Michael Sandorffy (Walt Vater). The third and final act sees Ella, the third sister (Barbara Alexander) married to Gida Radviany (Dick Wilson). This enables Horkoy to win his wager of the three kisses, and he finds himself engaged to Mitzi, as the curtain falls. The three younger sisters; Terka (Carolyn Briggs), Liza (Thalia Huston), Klara (Pat Hoover), add to the farce with vibrato. Janko, (Mert Souers), the stable boy, adds to the laughs with a bit of slap-stick. Toni Teleki (Bob Stephan) lisps through his role well.

There you have it. The Senior Play of '49. We enjoyed working on it; our only hope is that it was a big success with you.

Diary

SEPTEMBER

Sept. 7—Welcome to H. H. S. freshmen! Hello sophomores! Hi juniors! Are you back again, seniors?

Sept. 8—Book rental and first assignment were given today. You should have seen the library! Everyone was hanging out of the windows trying to get back into the swing.

Sept. 9—Today Junior Candy Sellers organized. In home room we made out our permanent enrollment cards, and chose two students for the student council. I still can't get over how empty the halls look without the class of '48.

Sept. 10—D-Day (Do or die) tonight at Kriegbaum Field, we see whether this year's team is going to be luckier than the Vikes of '48 and win a game. Please pardon my doubtfulness. The score, Vikes 34-Marion 6. What a powerhouse!

Sept. 13—A new week! Seniors met in the auditorium at 11:00. What to give to dear ole H. H. S? That's the question. Short periods this afternoon. Hurrah!

Sept. 13—Bob Carey is the president of the senior class for the third consecutive year. If this heat keeps up I'm going to quit school. Who am I kidding? Attention: All freshmen who haven't had their ears tested please go to Miss Sayles office at once. If Betty keeps giving that announcement every five minutes pretty soon—no school—

Sept. 15—Wednesday and we got our permanent seats in the auditorium. After four years the seniors looked very awe stricken from the center of the floor.

Sept. 16—G. A. A. Meeting after school. Bargain sale in Miss Kline's room with all pennies going to Sunshine Society. Students Council organized.

Sept. 17—Some more freshmen had firecrackers on the bus to Hartford City tonight. I think everyone in the back of the bus was scared to death, but we made it. Vikes 39-Hartford City 6.

Sept. 20.—What a gloomy day! Full periods to top it off! Today is the last day to get Talk of the Hour tickets. It is a wonderful setup. Jr. Masque and Gavel at 7:00 tonight. See you tomorrow!

Sept. 21—Bergan Evans (Talker of the Hour) from Northwestern University was very good last night. Sophistication, polish, culture, and a Rhodes scholar. Everyone got a lot of real pleasure from his dissertation on humor last night, Sophomore meeting at 11:00 today. Rain—rain—rain.

Sept. 22—Let's all go out and celebrate—no rain! Greenie Day! Boy, I wish someone would think up some new "get ups" besides nightgowns and candles. The prize should go to the replica of our own Mr. Plasterer. Bubbles and all!

Sept. 23—Thursday . . . These fellas and their dyed hair! Freshman nominations for officers today. Slow in typing. Oh, this Civics is getting me down.

Sept. 24—Friday . . . Sophomore Class election—Bob Bond is president; in the freshman Class, Eddie Haines. Literally everyone in study hall today read magazines and newspapers. Don't they realize they'll grow to be illiterate?

Sept. 27—Wonderful game at Wabash Friday night. We beat them 40-0!!! The freshmen seemed a little more used to school and not quite so flabbergasted today—at least until one poor freshman (with arms wide with books, pencils, ink, and other such paraphernalia) dropped everything in the third floor hall. Was she embarrassed!

Sept. 28—Tuesday and the li'l man with the camera is here. To the auditorium 1-2-3, you're done. Joe Morrow is on the brink of disaster after backfiring his car twice this morning with the utmost results! Mrs. Hillegas was sent heavenward with fright exclaiming, "Qu'est-ce que c'est?"

Sept. 29—We had a movie on alcohol today for our guidance program. It was very worthwhile. To this date the girls have tried henna, blond and platinum rinses, and of course, peroxide. What a gala array of hair-do's! But look who's talking!

Sept. 30—The orchestra is rehearsing for the Modulus Revue already. Sounds pretty good too! Everyone feeling very thankful that it is Thursday except for seniors who must have a composition in tomorrow.

OCTOBER

Oct. 1—Pep Session at 8:20. Those yell leaders really looked cute; they sure have a lot of pep and sparkle! Warsaw 6-Vikes 24.

Oct. 4—Nothing happened in school today . . . I was absent.

Oct. 5—Nothing happened in school today . . . I was here.

Oct. 6—The firemen were here today. The chief spoke and then turned the program over to his buddy. After a fruitless attempt to demonstrate combustion, he succeeded in blowing the top off a can. The moral: "Are these auditoriums really necessary?"

Oct. 7—Mr. Wilbern informed his home room today that the Modulus Revue is really going to be hot stuff this year.

Oct. 8—This morning at 9:30 cheerful little students skipped happily out of their respective school buildings for a tri-state fire drill. Joan McCloskey had her portable on in study this afternoon. Good music! While the cat's away, the mice will play. Friday scores—Elwood 15, Huntington 7. Our first defeat. But it was so wet!

Oct. 11—Monday is here again. The World Series was blasting in study hall. I'm not complaining. This is the end of the six weeks and tests and tests and more tests.

Oct. 12—Mandrake the Magician is here in person. If the show is as old as the marquees Mandrake has placed in our halls—oh, brother, don't give him your 30c.

Oct. 13—Mandrake put on his show second and third periods in the auditorium this morning. Study! Study! Kiddies! But there is always this weekend to forget it all.

Oct. 14—A seventeen-year-old girl was beaten up by a six-year-old boy, and he broke her front tooth. What would you do, Mr. Anthony?

Oct. 15—The end of the six weeks! Game with Central, Fort Wayne, tonight. The score, Vikes 0-Tigers 21. We'll make it up next week!

Oct. 18—Another Monday; but at least there are only two more days 'til vacation.

Oct. 19—I wish something exciting would happen like someone rolling down three flights of stairs! Isn't that awful?

Oct. 20—It's wonderful how Mrs. Hillegas's French Class can get her sidetracked on Teachers Convention. Score tonight Vikes 13-New Castle 34. Goodbye everyone! See you Monday after a much needed vacation.

Oct. 25—I just about lost my way to school this morning; there was such a fog you couldn't see a half a block ahead of you. Sr. Masque and Gavel will meet tonight in the Club rooms of the Y. Yeouw! I got my announcements crossed. I mean Sr. Masque and Gavel will meet at the High School tonight.

Oct. 26—Nothing unsual happened today except tryouts for the dance chorus. There were fifty-six in "best form" trying to stomp-hop-shuffle-step.

Oct. 27—Fourth period was omitted but Tom Hefner got his bit of deviltry in while Miss Sees was taking the roll. He pulled out a "cylinder of sin" in class! Tch! Tch! The auditorium program on wild life was very well delivered, and I might add, Mr. Johnson very well received.

Oct. 28—Another wonderful Friday. Need I say anything more? Plymouth 13-Vikes 36!

NOVEMBER

Nov. 1—A new month and a new school week. Mondays are so uninteresting. Dance chorus practice tonight. Jr. Masque and Gavel will meet at 4:00.

Nov. 2—The Booster Club had a wonderful picnic at Lagro tonight. It was in direct contrast with the weather! Too bad Joan Minton had to have a flat in Bob's car.

Nov. 3—We had our first Junior Town Meeting at Concordia today. The speakers talked too much; consequently two of the questioners couldn't ask questions. If Mr. Johnson could only see and hear Concordia's noisy auditorium, I'm certain he would resume our Guidance Programs. Ohhhh, please, Mr. Johnson!!!?????

Nov. 4—It rained all day. I don't believe it will ever stop!! Kathryn Turney Garten and Kathryn Smith gave the Life of Schuman in the Auditorium tonight. Through the Departmental Club some students were given the opportunity to hear it. It was certainly wonderful!!

Nov. 5—Raining today, so our huge Booster Club bonfire was postponed. Darn it! We had dummies made to burn and a snake dance prepared. The Vikes won their final football game of the season by beating Peru 48-0 on the muddiest field on earth.

Nov. 8—Fifth and sixth periods were omitted. We went down to the Community Gym for "Education Week" and sang. It was boring to tell the truth. Barb Alexander announced that the Revue has been definitely postponed. Most of us are pretty broken up about it.

Nov. 9—Big Booster Club initiation tonight. Look out all juniors! There is one consolation afterwards, however, and that is ham salad sandwiches. Goodnight all!

Nov. 10—Bill Lauterbach does not believe in Webster's definition of "ingenious." He still would be arguing at a great pace if Miss Wilson hadn't broken it up. Oh, that English Comp. Class!

Nov. 11—Thursday—Basketball tickets are now on sale downstairs. Of course, I forgot my money and had to be excused from study. Senior play books were distributed to the committee. Here's hoping they pick a good one!

INSURANCE

Nov. 12—It certainly seems funny not to have a game tonight. See everybody at the Y tomorrow night. Sadie Hawkins Day!

Nov. 15—It was really a nice and cheerful Monday, for a change; until Dale Ware pulled a surprise test on his sixth period civics class. Thank you, Mr. Ware.

Nov. 16—Plans were made this morning for the Biology Club Initiation to be held on Thursday. Carl Mundt will speak in our auditorium to the "Talk of the Hour" this evening on Communism.

Nov. 17—Nothing exciting . . . Girls' volleyball practice at noon.

Nov. 18—Biology Club Initiation was held at 4:00. Have you ever tried scrubbing the stairs of our Alma Mater with a tooth brush and a cup of water?

Nov. 19—I hate to admit it, but it's just another uneventful Friday.

Nov. 22—Dick Hendricks was gently asked to "remove it" from Miss Wilson's English Comp. Class this morning. Poor fella! He had trouble in typing too. We all have our off days though, Dick.

Nov. 23—End of the six weeks. I, for one, am having four tests on this lovely day. Our first basketball game is tonight with Warren in our gym (we won). I have more to look forward to than that, however, this wonderful Thanksgiving holiday.

Nov. 24—Today the dedication of our piano was held in the auditorium. It seemed so good to see Dick Bonewitz up on the stage again! Here I go getting lethargic! Happy holiday and don't eat too much.

Nov. 30—After a glorious vacation, we are once again treading the marble steps of "Alma" mother. Religious programs began "aujourd'hui"

Nov. 31—Everyone is still talking about our game with Wabash Friday. We beat them 55-50. Gene Woods made 18 points. I remember when he was in grade school playing basketball. What a star!

DECEMBER

Dec. 1—Rings were distributed to all happy juniors. There is a discussion being heard everywhere in H. H. S. about the sophomores getting their rings too. I think it would be a very wise idea. WKJG had five students "Around the Editor's Desk" from Huntington Wednesday evening at 8:15.

Dec. 2—Thursday. This morning we were forced to go to the auditorium to see William Tell, the archer. Seriously, his puns were lousy, but his shooting was very good.

Dec. 3—Rochester here tonight but I can't see the game. You see, fifteen of us left for the Purdue Speech Conference at 7:00 a. m. See you Monday!

Dec. 6—The girls volleyball team lost to Union. What's the deal here?

Dec. 7—Pep session at 8:20 this morning, and coach got up and orated in his inevitable style. Get out of more school that way! Vikes 34-Marion 24.

Dec. 8—The choir had a preview of their program for Thursday night. It was excellent, and I really think much credit should be given to Mr. Slater for the remarkable work he is doing. He announced that "Kayo" Bryant had written a choral number for them. All I can say is, "Tres bien."

Dec. 9—The choir was very good (so I heard). Sometimes I wonder just how much farther Dick Hendricks is going to go in English.

Dec. 10—I was busy getting ready to journey down state to I. U. today; so I didn't quite get the latest news. I saw many ex-H. H. seniors in Bloomington, and they were in very good form, I might add.

Dec. 13—The last week of school before Christmas. Isn't it awful the way we count the days till we get out! Mrs. Hillegas really gave her sophomore French class a talking to this morning!

Dec. 14—There is a Christmas tree in the library now and all signs of Christmas can be seen everywhere. Seniors, get those pictures in! Game with Bluffton tonight.

Dec. 15—Wednesday—That game was terrible last night even though we won! The whole object was to see who could stand in one place with the ball the longest. Still no Wednesday morning guidance.

Dec. 16—We got out of school for the grade school tourney at 2:00. Did you go????

Dec. 17—We had two periods, Christmas carols, and a final Masque and Gavel program in the auditorium before Christmas holidays. Joyeux Noel!

JANUARY

Jan. 3—Heavy laden with wonderful memories of the past two weeks, and with horrible visions of the next two weeks we, the students of H. H. S., trudge wearily back to school.

Jan. 4—There is to be a Modulus Revue the second week in February. One short announcement started off the morning. Game at Decatur tonight. This will be our 12th straight.

Jan. 5—Wednesday—What did I say! The Vikes lost! Zounds! Dance chorus practice begins again tonight, 6:30.

Jan. 6—Third period was omitted for "The Importance of Being Earnest." Very clever.

Jan. 7—Pep session at 3:45. Chalk up the sixteenth week but not another victory. You guessed it—we lost to Hartford City, 48 to 47.

Jan. 10—Jim Streit tried to take Pete Vardaman's note from Vonnie away in study hall. Pete almost lost control. There is more accomplished in fifth period study. And what do you say, Mr. Hummer?

Jan. 11—Dance chorus practice at 6:30 and 7:00. The orchestra is beginning to sound really professional. All I hope is that the Revue is as good as the orchestra. Oh, I forgot to tell you . . . it snowed today!

Jan. 12—Why is it that some days everything goes wrong! Because I don't want to leave any bitter memories with anyone, I won't write a single word about it.

Jan. 13—Test in typing and snowballs all the way home.

Jan. 14—The Vikes play Southside tonight up there. Miss Lush's history classes had a test in American history. Five page compositions were due in 4-1 English.

Jan. 17—This is the beginning of the end. Yep, the beginning of the eighteenth week of school. Tests! Tests! and you guessed it . . . tests!

Jan. 18—Seniors enrolled for second semester classes from 8:00 to 8:30. It rained all day. The girls' volleyball team beat Union there.

Jan. 19—After a stormy night, it is very surprising to see so many of us here today. The 1-2 English Class gave a play in the auditorium. Sonny Jung was the star giving a scintillating performance of Daniel Boone.

Jan. 20—The end of the eighteen weeks. We got out at noon. See you Monday.

Jan. 24—Book rental today with short classes. You certainly can tell the new freshmen; they walk around in herds. Dance practice tonight.

Jan. 25—The 4-2 sociology class was given their first assignment, an autobiography. We had our first religious program of the semester. Dance practice tonight.

Jan. 26—This week has gone so slow. With all the rehearsals the dance chorus and the orchestra have been having lately, they ought to be about ready for Broadway by spring.

Jan. 27—It has rained continually all day. Last night at dance practice Patty Hoover fell down, rounding a corner. Come on gal! Hold up just another two weeks and it will be all over.

Jan. 28—Profound blasphemy could be heard echoing through the boys' hall after the Senior Class meeting this morning. Five or six disgusted boys (too obvious to mention) didn't get their way about the senior gift. Game at Central Fort Wayne 51-50. We finally broke our losing streak.

Jan. 31—Student council meeting this morning about monitor duties. Moral "Stick to it, Timothy" (So Dear to My Heart) F. T. A. Meeting at 7:15 tonight. Revue practice also.

FEBRUARY

Feb. 1—Max Truby is wearing colored glasses. He says he's suffering from snow blindness! Mr. Johnson called all tardy monitors in about their duties.

Feb. 2—Just another very cold wintry day.

Feb. 3—At 8:20 A. M. we were surprised by hearing a safety man from the Erie R R. Dance practice tonight.

Feb. 4—The Senior Gift Committee and Senior officers and sponsors went to Purdue to look over their stage lighting. Here's hoping the class decides on lighting for a gift. Games with Tipton there.

Feb. 7—Dress rehearsal was at 6:00 p. m. tonight for the Modulus Revue, "Let Yourself Go." It certainly went off slow.

Feb. 8—While Senior Masque and Gavel practiced in the auditorium for the Revue this morning, Mrs. Patterson accidentally put her foot in it! (the dust pan). She overturned the dust pan and vice versa. They both landed prostrate on the floor. The matinee was held this afternoon for the grade schools. What an unappreciative audience! We beat East Chicago Washington 54-45. A wonderful game!

Feb. 9—First period was omitted this morning. The Men's Concert Choir from Indiana (yeah!) University performed for us. They sang wonderful songs, and their program included a very witty, well given skit on "Moldy Vat Beer." Even Mr. Johnson was in convulsions. The opening of the Revue. Quite a foux pas tonight!

Feb. 10—Eyelids are drooping and backs are sagging this morning, as I gaze sleepily around this study hall. "There's no Business like Show Business!" Seniors held another election; and this time, after badly needed pressure was applied, we got stage lighting.

Feb. 11—The last night of the Revue. With memories of grease-paint, creaking stairs, noisy mikes, forgotten lines, and fun galore, we settle back until next year.

Feb. 14—There was to be a moving picture (20 cents) in the auditorium at 2:45. A transformer burned up across the street; consequently no electricity in the building; consequently no "Heidi" for the kiddies. Sociology, here I come.

Feb. 15—Everything went off much as usual today. We had a religious program in the auditorium. I didn't hear one single word. Either the mikes were down too low or the performers were—.

Feb. 16—Our versatile Phil Gardner is a busy boy this week. He and Pat Hoover are to speak on the Junior Town Meeting here this afternoon. The only trouble being that at the same time of the program he is to be on the trainway to Chicago to complete his N. R. O. T. C. Exam. By the way Phil won the County American Legion Speech Contest last night. More power to you, Cicero!

Feb. 17—Basketball and more basketball, that is all we hear. Huntington drew Banquo for our first game of the sectional (last night our freshmen skinned Banquo).

Feb. 18—Patty Hoover had a gay party for the dance choruses last night. Everyone (except Betty Kissinger, perhaps) had a roaring good time. Game at Plymouth tonight. We won.

Feb. 21—The Sweetheart Dance held on Saturday, the nineteenth, was wonderful this year. The decore was simply stunning (thank you, Miss Barnhart). The orchestra especially catered to Huntington's male section. (Very few fast pieces). Numerous parties topped off the dance like whipped cream tops off a sundae.

Feb. 22—How dreary can February weather get? Last night was the last Talk of the Hour program held in our auditorium. Milton Cross was the guest speaker. His introduction and his finish were excellent, but what he told us in between can be learned in Opal Lush's junior history class. His voice was beautiful, his diction perfect, and his vocabulary remarkable. I wonder how he'd like that for a critique?

Feb. 23—Our first guidance period this year. The picture should have been shown at Central. Pictures for the Modulus activities were taken today.

Feb. 24—The sectional is on! Huntington Catholic and Roanoke being last night's winners. Here's to the best team; it's got to be Huntington! See you Monday!

Feb. 28—The Sectional Tourney is over. Huntington High is a pretty sad looking place this morning.

MARCH

March 1—Silence is golden.

March 2—This is the last week of the six weeks, and for the first time in four years, I can honestly say that I only have one test.

March 3—Seniors voted for the color of their caps and gowns this morning. Wine and white. Wine for the boys and white for the girls. Nice. . . .

March 4—Jack Wamsley has the measles. The grade school tourney was an outlet from school for some two hundred guys and gals.

March 7—Dick Hendricks took off for Texas. Since his absence is not prearranged, he will be counted as hookey. That's o.k., Dick, I would do the same thing if I had that big Oldsmobile to drive. (You can give me my cut any time, Powers).

March 8—Senior play books were handed out by Mrs. Patterson. Tryouts will be next week sometime. Come on all you aspiring Alfred Lunts and Lynn Fontaines—on your toes!

March 9—We saw an old but good guidance movie this morning on the "Junior Prom." I better brush up on my hand shaking . . . Report cards!

March 10—Miss Cage was absent this morning, and the World Lit Class had a substitute. That poor woman! I'll admit we were pretty mean. The G. A. A. Mother and Daughter Banquet was held at the Y at 6:15.

March 11—Phil Gardner was stopped by a boy from Fort Wayne in the American Legion contest. You did a good job, Phil! Frank Pyle, the life and the death of this first period study, is now throwing paper wads.

March 14—While I was going on hall duty, I chanced to stop by the attendance office and talk to the "gals." I think Mr. Gordon is hiding some perfume shipments from France. It's the sweetest room in the building!

March 15—Dr. Gaston Foote spoke to us this morning about jaw bones, wish bones, and back bones. There was a lot of meat on the bones, however.

March 16—The "Hunting Tones" (Barber Shop Quartet) sang for us this morning. It was fun! Most of the seniors can be seen carrying little yellow books around the halls. Today is the day we try out.

March 17—There was a bunch of eager anxious seniors grouped around the bulletin board this morning to find out about last night. We still have to keep plugging, because there are twenty-six kids left and only fourteen parts.

March 18—Enough about seniors! I try not to be partial, but you try being a senior and not writing about them! Another glorious Friday. Have fun this weekend!

March 21—Today is the first day of spring, and everyone has Spring fever.

March 22—Juniors are getting everything ready for the Reception. After Friday, we have only eight more weeks of school. Senior play practice continues.

March 23—The Senior girls are practicing the "Can Can" dance for the party at the country club. It ought to be a roar! We saw a movie entitled "Old Black Joe." Some of the students acted like they were at the Tivoli on a Saturday afternoon.

March 24—Mr. Johnson issued an ultimatum today on pre-arranged absences. Mrs. Hillegas is back; she had a bad case of measles! Mrs. Rusk is still taking over Miss Zahn's classes. More fun.

March 25—Everyone could be seen standing in the halls today. It is too nice out to go into those stuffy classrooms (no reflection on the teachers). A Y. M. C. A. man who has been all over the world gave an oratory on Palestine. Did you see Ed Sunley?

March 28—Today is the opening of Peanut Week, get those notes written! If this boy next to me in study chews his gum any louder, I'm going to pop!

March 29—Poor Mr. Hummer. He just can't find a seat to fit his taste in fourth period study. Another beautiful day! If you hear anything that surely resembles horses' hoofs, it's Coach Williams' gym class out for their jog around the block.

March 30—Seniors are up in arms! The country club is out as far as the Senior Party goes. Today is the day you are to make something out of peanuts for your peanut pal. They will be judged at 4 o'clock in room 312.

March 31—I got flowers this morning from my peanut pal. I think the gifts this year are wonderful. The choir members (with the exception of "lavender blue" Harold Wolford) went to Ft. Wayne this afternoon to hear the Westminster Choir.

APRIL

April 1—Corsage bedecked girls are parading the halls. A Super Duper (thank you, Miss Barnhart) was held in the auditorium at 4:00. All the local stores provided clothes; a tea was held in the library afterwards.

April 4—Weekends go too fast for me. The weather gets more wonderful every day. Only seven more weeks of school! Who said I was counting the days?

April 5—There was a fourth District Hi-Y & Tri-Hi-Y Conference here at 2 p. m. Millions of kids all over everywhere.

April 6—The Drake University Concert Choir sang for us. They were sponsored by our choir. That auditorium really rang!

April 7—A Miss Dorothy Bucks of Hanover College spoke to us on a too little spoken of subject. Can't they ever do anything but divide the periods? I would love to get out of second or third periods just once.

April 8—Tonight's the night for all seniors!

April 11—A thirty minute lecture was given on crippled children. Buy your Easter Seals!

April 12—Our Holy Week Services are held, per usual every day. The Ball State Choir is going to sing today. I wonder if there is any school in Indiana that we haven't heard sing?

April 13—Ogden Nash says, "A girl whose cheeks are covered with paint, has an advantage with me over one whose ain't." Moral—you try to write a diary two months in advance.

April 14—Senior practice continues at a mad pace; it should—only two more weeks.

April 15—Today is Good Friday, and it is also the end of the second six weeks. We may not have Fifth Avenue, but be sure and put on your new Easter outfits and take a walk "Up Jefferson."

April 18—Everybody seems to be driving to school lately.

April 19—Do you know the difference between Nazism and Capitalism? Nazism: if you have two cows, the Government shoots you and keeps the cows. Capitalism: if you have two cows, you sell one and buy a bull.

April 20—I couldn't live through Wednesdays if it wasn't for our guidance films and looking forward to Milton Berle at night. Yeeeeeeeessssssss. . . .

April 21—Just think, only five more weeks. Kenny Brickley and Gretchen, and Pete and Vonnie are still standing in the same places every morning when I enter the portals.

April 22—I don't have time to write another thing. Why? It is Friday, and I always make it a point to get out of school as fast as I can. Don't we all?

April 25—There was a film for all Sociology students today. That is one course, where the finest, most educational and broadening films are shown. The films on race prejudice should be shown at all our movie theatres.

April 26—This is it. The beginning of a very tough week for some. The "Seven Sisters" matinee will be given for the grade schools this afternoon, and the first performance tonight.

April 27—The play continues tonight. Congratulations, Miss Senior Queen, and who is that friend of yours?

April 28—A usual day. Quite a few absentees.

April 29—Have fun over the weekend. Tonight is the last performance of the Senior play. Parties and more parties.

MAY

May 2—The shop students had a trip to Indianapolis to see a Home Show. Sounds interesting. Tell us all about last Friday, boys.

May 3—You are constantly reading in the papers about the spring vacations at other schools. We had two weeks at Christmas. Darn. . . . .

May 4—Now that the play is over, it is quite a let down. Nothing much doing today. Guidance film, divided periods.

May 5—The boys are running around Kreigbaum Field harder than ever. Everybody is beginning to shed their winter clothes. Can't say that I blame them . . . oh this glorious weather.

May 6—Tomorrow is our Conference Track meet at Kreigbaum Field. What, we actually get out of school at 1 p. m. No, it couldn't be. The propaganda around this school is as thick as behind the "iron curtain."

May 9—Is there anything as depressing as Monday? You will have to admit that this year has gone fast.

May 10—Today the seniors had something different. They went to the college for College Day. The girls got to see a few of the dormitories and a lunch was served. They were certainly gracious.

May 11—What would we do without those guidance films? I, for one, am certainly glad that Mr. Johnson did not discontinue them altogether.

May 12—We had an exhibit of all school projects today. A Wolf and Dessauer representative spoke to us . . . the speech was of interest to all students.

May 13—Just Friday. Isn't that enough?

May 16—Seniors, this is your last week of school. Put that in your pipe and smoke it.

May 17—Wails of "it's gone so fast," and "Have we been here four years," could be heard resounding through the halls today as all seniors began to sit up and take notice.

May 18—To all freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, I realize this year is nothing but another year, but just wait until you are seniors. Ahhh . . . but I must not give my identity away.

May 19—Cram, cram, cram for your final exam. Tests are everywhere you turn this week. Ogden Nash says, "A bugler named Dougal MacDougal—found ingenious ways to be frugal.—He learned how to sneeze—in various keys,—Thus saving the price of a bugle."

May 20—Seniors in their maroon and white gowns looked very nice. That is a beautiful march that opens the Achievement Day exercises, but it is a little sad. Hold up there, Briggsy, you'll be all right.

May 23—Is there anything so gorgeous as to lie in bed? Ask the seniors. Baccalaureate Services were held yesterday. The Junior Girls looked very nice ushering.

May 24—There is too much excitement to worry about school work, that is, until those teachers look at you with their cool eyes and softly murmur, "This test will count ⅓ of your final grade."

May 25—Two more days, and then off to work? Summer school? Big Blue? Loafing? From where I stand it all sounds mighty good.

May 26—The Junior Senior Reception was held tonight, and, Juniors, it was beautiful.

May 27—Commencement at 8:00 p. m. To all of you who have struggled through this Diary with me, I thank Ogden Nash and the office calendar, for helping out in a very ticklish spot. To all of you, who have put up with us Seniors, we say "Goodbye." We only hope that you will have as many cherished memories as we have, in leaving the portals of H. H. S., forever. . . .

Warsaw—Oct. 1

Huntington tallied its fourth win tonight by defeating the Warsaw "Tigers" 24-6. Warsaw, received, and lost the ball on downs. Vardaman scored after we had gained two first downs, but the kick was blocked. Warsaw scored when their star runner broke away for fifty-two yards. Their conversion was not good. The Vikes climaxed the quarter with another score. First quarter score 12-6. Warsaw punted from their own 40. They punted again after taking over from the Vikes on downs. A passing attack on the part of Warsaw was stopped by the clock.

The second half saw both teams fighting hard. Passwater scored to make it read 18-6. The Vike's powerful line dug in and held Warsaw on the one yard line for four downs. The spirited Vikes marched 99 yards to make the score 24-6. Warsaw took to the air late in the quarter, but failed to score. Huntington was in possession of the ball when the final gun sounded.

Elwood—Oct. 8

Elwood's Panthers came to Huntington during fire prevention week, and put out several Viking drives to drown our chances of being conference football champs. The Norse drew first blood when Passwater scored and Wamsley converted the score to 7-0. Before the half had ended, though, Elwood had scored. The Sea Rovers held fast to the 7-6 lead until Kelich's field goal midway through the second half gave the Panthers a lead they never relinquished. The Vikes fumbled repeatedly in the second half and received further disappointment when Elwood added the final six-pointer in the closing seconds of play. Final score—Elwood 15-Vikes 7.
